Any one contemplating taking out LIFE INSURANCE will do well to call upon or write to me before making application for a policy elsewhere. My time aside from my official duties as County Superintendent will not permit my soliciting insurance, but I shall be glad upon application to give any information concerning the kinds of insurance I write. For my own satisfaction when seeking insurance upon myself, I made quite a thorough investigation of Life Insurance and of the various Life Insurance Companies; and not only have I become a firm believer in GOOD LIFE INSURANCE, but I candidly believe that for protection and investment, or either, I am representing the VERY BEST Life Insurance presented to the American people.

I write applications for all the various kinds of policies:

TERM, NON-PARTICIPATING, ORDINARY LIFE, LIMITED PAYMENTS, of the various kinds, ENDOWMENTS of the various kinds, SEMI-TONTINE, RETURN PREMIUMS, IMMEDIATE AND DEFERRED ANNUITIES, POLICY ADDITIONS, ETC., ETC., thus meeting the varying needs, conditions and circumstances of any who may wish insurance.

Respectfully,

C. M. MERICA.

LIFE INSURANCE INDORSED.

"Life Insurance as an investment is one of my hobbies—especially for young men,"—CLEMENT C. GAINES, President of the Great Eastman Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

"I am a thorough believer in Life Insurance and carry a large amount [$1,505,000] on my own life."—JOHN WANAMAKER, Postmaster-General.

Life Insurance is a business which is not only pecuniarily profitable to those who engage in it, but to all who patronize it. It is more and better than charity, for it involves no loss of self-respect and independence on the part of those who are benefited by it.

JOHN G. WHITTIER, Poet.

THANATOPSIS REVISED.

But not by Bryant.

"So live that when thy summons comes to join The innumerable caravan which moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go, not like the quarry-slave at night
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By a policy in a STANDARD COMPANY,
Smile at thy fate, knowing that all is safe;
That penury thy loved ones ne'er can fright,
And thus, with soul at peace, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

LETTER TO TEACHERS.

Office of COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

AUBURN, IND., October 2, 1893.

As it will be impossible for me to meet with all the Teachers of the county for some time to talk over some school matters I have in mind, I address you this circular letter, touching a few items that I feel demand our special and immediate attention.

Teachers' Reading Circle.

There were in the county last year 146 teachers, 111 in the district schools and 35 in the town, or graded schools. All of the country, or district teachers and 19 of the town teachers took the R. C. work. The books this year, as nearly all of you are aware, are DeGarmo's "Essentials of Method" and "A Study of the American Commonwealth" by two of Indiana's educators. From a purely professional standpoint, no teacher can afford to fail to read the "Essentials of Method." This book is the latest and is said to be the very best along this line of educational thought. The other book is the one to be examined upon for the months of Nov., Dec., Jan., Feb., March and April, and is well worth a careful study by all. The following is the order of the State Board of Education in regard to the R. C. examinations:

ORDERED, That the Reading Circle examinations in the Science of Teaching be accepted by County Superintendents in place of the County Examination on that subject, and that the average of their FOUR SUCCESSIVE YEARLY EXAMINATIONS in the Science of Teaching be accepted by the State Board in examination for State certificates.

The plan of organizing local circles, where two or three or more can meet together and thus exchange ideas in the discussion of the subjects at hand, and other school work, has its advantages over individual reading. The town teachers, with the assistance of their Superintendents and Principals and their special conveniences of meeting, are accomplishing very much along this line in many of the towns and cities of the state. The examination for the R. C. work will be held next September, and it is to be hoped that every teacher in the county will be ready to take the examination. The prices of the books are respectively 55 and 75 cents. These books, together with those of the Y. P. R. C., by an arrangement with the State Committee, are to be furnished by the Olds Brothers, booksellers, Auburn, Ind.

The Young People's Reading Circle.

The membership last year in the Y. P. R. C. was over 600, with 1411 books read. The enrollment of pupils in the schools was 5,396. It will be seen from these figures that only a little over 10 per cent. of all the pupils read any of these books; or in other words, 90 per cent. received no benefit from this great work in our educational system. Many of the teachers did absolutely nothing. It is sincerely to be hoped that such can not be said of a SINGLE TEACHER this year. No teacher who understands the real purpose of the work and the great benefits to the pupils will neglect it. We want a good report from every school and every teacher. By every teacher doing his whole duty, we shall have it. "Where there is a will there is a way."

Spelling and Writing.

It is often charged against the schools, and not without a certain degree of truth, too, that spelling and writing are neglected. During these summer and autumn months, there is not the excuse of "ink freezing," therefore writing should receive its full time and attention. The neglect of spelling is largely, but not altogether, imaginary, the people having wrong conceptions of its functions in educational training, and of the present methods of instruction. I urge that spelling be given its full share of attention as outlined in the Course of Study; and I hope that every teacher in the county will fully inform himself of the plans for the spelling contest to be held in connection with the meeting of the County Teachers' Association. As I understand it, the object of this contest is, if possible, to create a new interest in the subject of spelling. Every teacher in the county should render all the help possible to make it a success. Any information as to plans, purposes, etc., will be given cheerfully on application to the president, Prof. Chas. E. Kriebel, Superintendent of the Butler Schools.

The County Teachers' Association.

On page 17 of the Uniform Course of Study it will be seen that the County Association of Teachers is not a local matter, known only in DeKalb County, but that it is a general institution of the State—a part of the State school system. Educationally, DeKalb can expect to take rank among the best counties of the State, only when she accepts and adopts all the plans and institutions connected with the State school system. The Association needs the help, co-operation and encouragement of every teacher. If any teacher sees any evil tendencies in the management, spirit or purposes of the Association, true to the best interests of the schools, education and his profession, he can not excuse himself by non-membership nor non-attendance; he should take hold and give his assistance in remedying the evil.

Teachers' Examination.

The schools of the county are now all in session, and as far as I can see, there is no need of anyone taking examination for some time, and hence, as my time can be better employed in institute and other school work, I shall hold no examination this month (October). Teachers will please make note of this and inform any of their pupils or other persons they know who might contemplate taking an examination.

Wishing you all a pleasant and successful school year, I am, as ever,

Your Friend,

C. M. MERICA, County Superintendent.

DIES FROM POISON IN AUBURN HOSPITAL

The Evening Star, Jan 20, 1940
Verald Teegardin, 33, of Ashley, Despondent Over the Lack of Work, Swallowed a Quantitity of Muriatic Acid

Verald Wayne Teegardin, 33, of Ashley, died at 8:58 o'clock Friday evening at the Sanders hospital in Auburn from the effects of taking muriatic acid Thursday noon with suicidal intent. The young man was believed to have been despondent over lack of work.

The deceased and his wife, a teacher in the Ashley schools, lived with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Corbin of Ashley. At the inquest conducted by Deputy County Coroner Howard Clark of Auburn, Mrs. Corbin said that Thursday noon Verald came down stairs while she was getting dinner and asked for the whites of some eggs.

When she asked what he wanted with them, he did not answer at first, she testified. Mrs. Corbin observed that something had happened out of the ordinary and she immediately broke five or six eggs into a saucer and separated them for him. After he swallowed them, he told the family that he had taken muriatic acid.

He then threw himself on a bed and complained of his chest hurting and soon became violently ill.

About 6 o'clock Thursday evening he was brought to the Sanders hospital for treatment. He was conscious until fifteen minutes before he died.

Born near Hamilton, he lived there until two years ago, when he moved to Ashley. In July of 1937 he and Miss Eerie Corbin of Ashley were united in marriage. His church affiliation was with the Methodist faith.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Teegardin of R. R. 2, Hamilton; three brothers, Clarence Teegardin of Pomona, Calif., Lester of Hamilton, and Prentice of McClure, Ohio; and one sister, Mrs. Harris Dirrim of Edon, Ohio.

The body was taken to the Swift funeral home at Hamilton, and was taken to the home at Ashley Saturday. The completion of final arrangements has been delayed until word is received from distant relatives.

VERALD WAYNE TEEGARDIN

Verald Wayne Teegardin was born in Otsego township, Steuben County, Indiana, May 19, 1906, and departed this life on January 19, 1940, aged 33 years and 8 months.

He was the youngest son of Dorilas and Adelia Teegardin. one brother, Elmer, preceeded him in death.

Verald grew to manhood in his home northeast of Hamilton, Indiana. He received his education in the local schools, graduating from high school in 1924.

He was always devoted to his parents, going to live with them following the completion of his schooling.

Honesty and fairness to all were the watchwords of his life; and this quotation from "Thanatopsis" was his pattern:

"So live, that when thy summons come to join The innumerable caravan...sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
Like wone who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Durning his young manhood, his Christian ideals found their culmination in his uniting with the Methodist Church under the pastorate of Rev. Turner.

On July 25, 1937, he was united in marriage with Edrie Corbin of Ashley, Indiana. They later made their home in Ashley where he and Edrie lived lives of love and devotion to each other.

Quiet, steadfast, and faithful to his ideals, he won the confidence and esteem of those whom his life touched.

His departure will cause a deep feeling of loss among his relatives, friends and neighbors.

He leaves to mourn his departure his companion, Edrie, the father and mother; one sister, Izola Dirrim, of Edon, Ohio. three brothers, Clarence of Pomona. California, Lester, of Hamilton, Indiana, and Prentice, of McClure, Ohio.

Written by Verald's wife, Edrie

GEORGE D. CORBIN

George D. Corbin, son of Charles and Sarah Jane Corbin, was born east of Waterloo, Indiana, on February 19, 1860, and passed from this life at his home in Ashley, Indiana, on October 22, 1940 at the age of 80 years, 7 months, and 27 days.

He was united in marriage to Margaret E. Chapman on October 4, 1893. One child, Edrie, was born to this union.

With his wife he made a home for eight years for Thurlow Stefer, taking him into their home when he was five years old.

His wife preceded him in death eleven days.

He was a member of the Barker's Chapel Methodist Church.

Surviving his death besides the daughter, Edrie, are two cousins, two nephews and three neices.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea;
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark;
For tho' from out our bourne of Time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crost the bar.

--Tennyson.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

*The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters,
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.*

*Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.*

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

*Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will

HE Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
 He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.
 He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Joyous Autumn

Hooray! Hooray! The frost has come!

The hazelnuts are yellow;
The pumpkin's orange on the vine,
The ruddy apple's mellow!

Let's husk the corn from off its stalk,
To pop before the fire,
And shell the walnuts when they're dry,
And heap the woodpile higher!

Let's gather apples, grapes and plums,
Red haws and scarlet berry,
So when the cold old winter comes There's lots to make us merry!

HOLLAND PRICES

The War Time Service Commission has received a report from Dr. Benjamin J. Bush from Geneva which gives the following black market prices in Holland: Sugar, $37.50 a pound; butter, $75 a pound; cheese, $30 a pound; bread, $20 a pound; salt, $7.50 a pound; meat, $20 a pound; and one egg, $3.

LITTLE THINGS

He stooped to pat a small dog's head—
A tiny thing to do;
And yet the dog, remembering,
Was glad the whole day through.

He gave a rose into the hand
Of one who loved it much;
'Twas just a rose—but, oh, the joy
That lay in its soft touch!

He spoke a word so tenderly—
A word's a wee, small thing;
And yet it stirred a weary heart
To hope again and sing!

Seven Wonders of Ancient World,

These the most magnificent of all the remarkable works of art produced during 3000 years before the birth of Christ

Pyramid of Khufu

King Khufu of Egypt spent his whole life and the lives of 300,000 slaves to construct a pyramid 481 ft high, in which he was buried. It still stands to-day 3000 yrs., the one remaining wonder of the Ancient World.

The Walls of Babylon

Nabuchadnezzar destroyed
Jerusalem, King of Babylon
600 years before the birth of Christ. Because of this conquest, he made Babylon and to protect his city, he surrounded it with 3 massive walls. Behind these walls he built his palace containing all the wonders of the world.

The eye looks at the great soaring, beautiful arch with the river. The fine top of the river arch. The road is it is said that the Hanging Gardens of Babylon were more beautiful than the Garden.

The Statue of Zeus at Olympia

The Greeks worshiped many gods but in Zeus, the most powerful of gods, they built in Olympia, what men have called the most wonderful statue ever made. Covered with white ivory & gold, it represented Zeus in his temple. The ivory was the color of human skin. The eyes were flaming jewels.
It was about 14 ft. tall.
It endured for many centuries before it disappeared into the mists of time.

The Temple of Diana

Diana was one of the chief goddesses of ancient Greece. Her temples were as beautiful as the one built for her more than 2,000 years ago. Beauty alone did not make the wonder. The wonder was in the richness & number of gifts men brought. Gifts in tribute to the goddess. So rich were these gifts that the temple was not only a shrine but one of the wealthiest banking institutions of the ancient world. Its power lasted until St. Paul came to Ephesus & turned the temple's worshippers to Christianity. In time its stones were used to build a Christian church.

The tomb of King Mansour

Across the Regency lies from Fez, in what is now Turkey, King Mansour, killed with his wife in many years.
The Queen loved him so dearly so deeply that when he died she built in her own most beautiful tomb the world has ever seen. This tomb over, a magnificent building over 100 feet high, was crowned with a pyramid bearing a chariot and statues, possibly of Mansour & his wife.
It stood in a most beautiful place. In 1900, when the tomb retained its beauty, then an earthquake shook it. But at no time has there been a better, or at all the modern world its name - Mansour - means a magnificent tomb.

The Colossus of Rhodes

Of all the Seven Wonders the Colossus of Rhodes stood for the shortest time & left one of the deepest impressions on the imaginations of men. Yet no one knows exactly what it looked like. We know that it was built to celebrate a great victory, that it was finished 280 B.C. and that it was dedicated to Helios, the patron god of the city of Rhodes. A legend relates that the colossal brass statue stood astride the harbor of Rhodes. It lasted only a short time, however, for after 56 years an earthquake destroyed it completely.

The Lighthouse of Alexandria

In the harbor of Alexandria in ancient Egypt there stood a more than 1000 years old the wonderful lighthouse of Alexandria - a tower of stone perhaps 200 ft. high at whose foot a great fire burned to warn ships of the reefs at its base. It is said that there was also a mirror at its summit which could bend the rays of the sun so that enemy ships miles away would burst into flame. This amazing tower was destroyed by the Arabs who thought its walls held a great treasure. Though they tried to rob it, they never succeeded and so kept the "Pyramid of the Sun" secret to the present day wonders of the ancient world.
